Arguments in Evans-Rogers Disbarment Proceedings.

JUDGE TWOMEY TO DECIDE.

Presentation of Findings Made by Attorneys on Both Sides-Entire Afternoon is Consumed in Debate.

The arguments and findings of the attorneys in the Evans-Rogers disbarment proceedings were submitted to Judge Twomey yesterday afternoon, and the judge's report will be filed with the Supreme court on Monday next, Before the debate on the findings commenced, there were a number of objections on both sides made to certain paragraphs. Judge Lee for the prosecution opened the debate, contending that the testimony of Melson was reliable, and in view of that fact, the disbarment of the two attorneys would be perfectly consistent. Judge Powers followed with an earnnest argument, contending that there was nothing in the testimony to warrant the disbarment. He made much of Nelson's statement, that he wanted o "show up" the attorney. Judge Dey declared that the contract with Nelson vas lived up to by the attorneys, that there was not the least fraud in relation to the matter. He asked therefore that the attorneys be exon Judge Lee followed in a some erated. what extended argument, and the case was taken under advisement. Judge Twomey says he will file his report on

AN ARTICLE OF VALUE

For the Busy Housewife,

It is economy for a lady to use this Calculating Pencil. Not a week passes during which she would not save money by avoiding mistakes. It is true the amounts lost through wrong change are not large. But they amount to a goodly sum during the year. They are much more frequent than you would think Here is what happened to a lady in a department store. She bought seven yards of goods at 15 cents, and nine yards at 19 cents. The clerk charged her $1.15 and $1.71. The lady checked off her bill with her Calculating Pencil and found that seven yards at 15 cents is $1.05 instead of $1.15, thereby saving 10 cents. The clerk, who did not intend o cheat, bought a pencil so as to avoid future mistakes. Ladles can buy this instructive educational device at the 'News" office, or any of its agencies,
